"Project workshops were delivered with professionalism, a sense of humour, and authenticity that made the experience personal and collaborative."

Megan Woodbury, COO, Talent International

For over 20 years, Talent International has trusted Professional Advantage (PA) as a reliable partner, united by shared values and a history of consistent delivery.

When Talent decided to consider a new ERP solution, they performed their due diligence, but, ultimately, the decision to stay with their trusted partner was an easy one. They knew they would receive the same exceptional level of support they had come to rely on: expert consultants, dedicated account management, diligent project management, and a solution tailored for success.

"We felt safe with PA as our partner."

That confidence in PA was reaffirmed during the early stages of their ERP project: since first embarking on the Business Central implementation, Talent revisited their ERP options as their objectives evolved. Subsequently, they requested that PA reposition Business Central in line with their updated goals.

"PA didn't steer us back to our initial assumptions. Instead, they adapted to our new requirements with no hesitation or resistance, reinforcing the trust between our organisations."

Talent and PA worked in partnership throughout the implementation, just as they have for the life of their relationship.

Talent never felt as though they weren't in control; instead, they felt supported, understood, and empowered from project inception through to go-live and beyond.

Professional Advantage brought genuine curiosity to the project, taking the time to understand Talent's business in detail. That curiosity translated into tangible outcomes.

"Our consultants regularly introduced fresh ideas and smarter ways of working purely because they believed those ideas would benefit our business. Their intent was clear and trusted, so we felt comfortable trying new approaches and giving honest feedback."

It created a space for experimentation and honesty, and the result was a solution that truly reflected Talent's needs.

The quality of the consultants made a lasting impression. Whether in formal meetings or casual check-ins, their professionalism was matched by approachability, and the collaboration was seamless.

"Every interaction with PA contributed to a solution that has left us in the strongest position we have ever been, giving us a solid, scalable foundation that will continue to support our business as it grows and evolves."

Talent credits their experience with their Client Management Team as consistently exceptional: "supportive, attentive, and never pushy". Rather than being sold to, they are guided; when the time is right, things happen.

"When we say 'partner', we truly mean it."

This sentiment defines their relationship with Professional Advantage: a relationship rooted in respect, shared purpose, and a commitment to long-term success.
